Welcome from the LACUE President and Conference Chairs

Dear Colleagues and Friends:

We are so glad you are joining us at the 26th Annual LACUE Conference. Over 2,000 teachers, teacher educators, administrators, policymakers, and industry representatives from all over Louisiana as well as the United States will be here at the Baton Rouge River Center. The 2010 program offers an array of opportunities to learn and share ideas by attending the keynote presentation by Vicki Davis and the spotlight sessions by Leslie Fisher. We have 6 pre-conference sessions, 130 concurrent sessions, and 42 hands-on workshops. We have over 100 exhibitors where you have the unique opportunity to discover and share ideas on using technology in our schools, districts, communities and around the state.

We appreciate your participation and want to welcome you. If you need assistance, the Conference Staff can be identified by their yellow name badges. They will be happy to help you in whatever way is appropriate.

Exhibits are open from:

5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, December 2

10:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 3

8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Friday, December 4

Please wear your name badge to ALL meeting functions. It identifies you as an authorized participant in the conference activities and amenities.

Thank you for your support and participation in the LACUE 2010 Conference!

Sincerely,

Bill Morrison, LACUE President

Eva Smill, Conference Chair

Yvette Ardoin & Dr. Diane Mason, Conference Co-Chairs

Dr. Sheryl Abshire, Program Chair

MISSION OF LACUE

The mission of LACUE is to provide a professional nonprofit organization which recognizes and promotes the use of computers in education. The purpose of the activities of LACUE is to enable the full utilization of the power of computers to assist in the fulfillment of the goals of education. To this end, the ultimate goal is to achieve significant and increasing improvement in the understanding of computers and to have available the more specific information and technical training necessary to all those who beneficially apply computer technology in their endeavors to:

1. Participate in the coordination of activities relating to the educational use of computers.
2. Promote equal opportunity for all students to enjoy the potential benefits and enrichment of instruction that is afforded by the computer.
3. Promote the development of programs and standards for the training of those involved in computer-related education.
4. Provide for the sharing and exchanging of ideas, techniques, research, materials, and procedures for use in educational computing.
5. Provide representation of members' viewpoints in the formulation of laws and regulations, and to cooperate with the State Department of Education, the state legislature, and other governmental agencies in matters relating to computers in education.

With this conference, LACUE hopes to inspire and inform Louisiana's technology leaders, administrators, and teachers.

Change needs to happen, but where should it start? Top down? Bottom up? It can be incredibly frustrating to move an organization forward into the effective use of technology when the individuals often feel unable to help change happen.

Learn how to promote positive change and uses of technology based upon change theory research from a full time classroom teacher who is living the struggles and successes of change daily. Join Vicki "Cool Cat Teacher" Davis, co-founder of the Flat Classroom™ and Digiteen™ projects to see what twenty-first century learning looks like and how to get there!

Vicki Davis is a teacher and the IT director at Westwood Schools in Camilla, Georgia. Vicki co-created four award winning international wiki-centric projects: the Flat Classroom™ project, the NetGenEd™ Project, the Eracism Project™, the Horizon project, and Digiteen™ with teacher Julie Lindsay, currently in Beijing.

These projects have linked more than 3200 students from both public and private schools from nineteen countries. These collaborative projects harness the most powerful technology tools available while operating on a minimal budget. Vicki has been featured in various media including Thomas Friedman's book, The World is Flat, Don Tapscott's Grown Up Digital, the Wall Street Journal, and the Boston Globe.

Vicki blogs at the Cool Cat Teacher blog, which won the 2008 Edublog Award for Best Teacher Blog. She was named a pioneer in Open Source Virtual World Technology in October 2009. Vicki is a Google Certified Teacher and Discovery S.T.A.R. Educator. She lives in Camilla, Georgia with her husband and three children.

Differentiating Instruction with Technology

This very popular session puts technology into differentiation strategies and methods and relates the terminology that teachers may have learned in school with current technology terminology. This session has consistently received very high rankings and has been done in Illinois, California, North Carolina, North Dakota (and more) and adapted for online teaching for a state virtual high school.

Spotlight Sessions Speaker Leslie Fisher

Sponsored by

Leslie Fisher's interest in technology began while studying music at the University of Southern California. She quickly realized the value of utilizing computers for music mixing and recording. She grabbed her 300 baud modem, jumped on the Internet (before anyone really called it the internet) and started looking for music resources. She soon realized she was spending more time discovering technology than playing music so she changed her major and tried to figure out what geeky thing she could do for the rest of her life.

After graduating from USC with a Business and Marketing degree in 1989 and a quick stint as a Trainer, Leslie joined Apple Computer in 1992. When the Internet took off in 1994, Leslie was one of the first Apple employees assigned to study the Internet growth and implementation.

In 1997, Leslie was roadkill on Apple's road to recovery and part of their massive layoff. Leslie planned to spend most of her huge severance package golfing and waiting a few months to look for a job. The day after her layoff, her phone began to ring with Apple customers requesting consulting, training and presentation services. Before she could say fore, Fisher Technologies Inc. was created to help educators with their technology implementations and decisions.

Fisher Technologies is now a worldwide company (meaning one employee named Leslie gets to travel the world teaching) specializing in Web Development, Web Tools as well as Digital Photography, Editing and Workflow.

School Video News Broadcast Center at LACUE

While attending this year's conference, make sure you stop by the School Video News Broadcast Center and see a working studio that could be implemented in any K-12 environment. Staffed by technology professionals and students of Louisiana schools, the Broadcast Center will produce stories featuring topical conference events and interviews with attendees, exhibitors, keynote speakers and others.

Any school or organization wishing to use the Broadcast Center during the conference is invited to do so. Content will be posted on SVN-TV, and other media sharing sites. Please email your reservations for studio time to Phylcia@buysvs.com.

The TCEA Broadcast Center is facilitated through collaboration between LACUE, School Video News, EZ News, and Pizazz.

Education Continuum: The 'Classroom' of the Future

The world is different than it was 10, 20, even 30 years ago. And kids are different too. They connect with friends and family in new ways, they learn inside and outside the four walls of a classroom, and expect 24/7 access to curriculum and instruction. They are also wired differently. There's a reason kids today have been labeled "digital natives", as they have been born into and are growing-up in a digital world. Yet, they are too often taught in an analog world, and, in some cases, punished for trying to stay in a digital world while learning in an analog school. So, how does a school system or university respond to these changes? And what role can infrastructure and technology play to minister to this new generation of learners? Come listen and debate these very issues at my session.

From Paper Napkins to Infomercials Using Web 2.0 Tools

Remember when ideas and projects began on paper napkins...capturing thoughts of individuals or those in a group? Those scribbles captured a lot of critical thinking through the ages. Today, one might find individuals or groups capturing the same but using cell phones, palm pilots, iPads, etc. Remember in the yesteryear when paper, posters and trifolds were the only way to visually display one's ideas, projections, conclusions, findings? Today with the Web 2.0 tools, students find many digitally enhanced and web-based ways of presenting and sharing the same.
